dearly loved by both teachers and pupils. The old Elementary Blue-backed Spelling book even came before McGuffey's.

→ Archibald had many large tracts of land in Morgan & Lawrence Counties, the first we find recorded on Land Grant Records in October 26, 1822, then again on September 16, 1827 and another one in 1825 this was signed by Gov. James T. Morehead, he took up 140 acres on December 22, 1865 in Morgan County, on this Grant was placed the State Seal it was made of paper and fastened to the Grant with a red sealing wax. His last tract of land was taken up four (4) years before Elliott County was created from parts of Morgan, Lawrence & Carter Counties under the act as passed by the Legislature, April 1, 1869. As was previously stated, Archibald had nine (9) sons and all came with him to Kentucky. They married there and each one took up large tracts of land and built homes, raised big families. So when Elliott County was formed the Ison family owned almost every foot of land in that county and some in the Old counties of Floyd, Morgan, Carter & Lawrence. Elliott County was named for John M. Elliott, he was then Judge of the Court of Appeals, and had also come from the Clinch River section in Scott County, Virginia.
